Fort Yates Man Sentenced for Sexual Abuse

BISMARCK - United States Attorney Drew H. Wrigley announced that on May 22, 2006, Jordan K. Eagle of Fort Yates, North Dakota, was sentenced before United States District Court Senior Judge Patrick A. Conmy on a charge of sexual abuse.

Eagle, 22, pleaded guilty on February 27, 2006, for having engaged in a sexual act with an adult female who was physically incapable of participating in or communicating an unwillingness to engage in that sexual act because she was asleep. The incident occurred on March 30, 2005, in Fort Yates on the Standing Rock Indian Reservation.

Judge Conmy sentenced Eagle to serve seven years and one month in Federal prison, three years of supervised release, and a $100 special assessment to the Crime Victim's Fund.

The case was investigated by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Bureau of Indian Affairs - Standing Rock Agency.

Assistant United States Attorney Rick Volk prosecuted the case.
